TANK Celebrates 35 Years of Transit in Northern Kentucky November 8, 2007 Marks 35 Years as TANK

TANK will mark an important moment in Northern Kentucky history when it celebrates its 35th anniversary this November. The commemoration will culminate on November 8 with an event focused on passenger appreciation.

Thursday, November 8 is Passenger Appreciation Day! TANK will reduce our rates for all services (local, express, Southbank Shuttle and RAMP) for the entire day. Everyone riding TANK will enjoy 25 cent rides all day long as well as special thank you's at the Covington Transit Center and selected park and ride lots throughout the day.

Public transportation is a critical part of Northern Kentucky's economic and social community. The 35th Anniversary celebration is an expression of thanks to our nearly 4 million annual passengers and a promotional event to encourage the use of public transportation.

About TANK:

The Transit Authority of Northern Kentucky is an integral part of the Northern Kentucky community, providing public transit service to Boone, Campbell, and Kenton Counties as well as downtown Cincinnati for more than 30 years. Close to 4 million passengers each year rely on the more than 100 TANK buses throughout the region to get them where they need to be. TANK is committed to providing safe, reliable, customer-oriented transportation for the people of our community. TANK's commitment extends to addressing current and future needs of the community. A major component of this commitment involves keeping abreast of advanced technologies and to providing services which will improve traffic flow, protect the environment and assist in the economic development of the Northern Kentucky region. TANK is on the web at www.tankbus.org.
